President's Column

Dear Fellow Members,

It is my sad task to advise you that our longstanding fellow member Joseph Sayres passed away April 5. Joe had been a member of our club since 1971 and an admirer of Irish (and many other Terriers) well before that. He continued a family heritage of close involvement with Terriers. His father was Pop Sayres, a prominent exhibitor and well known dog personality, who no doubt nurtured Joe's lifelong commitment to Canines generally and Irish in particular.

Joe brought diverse skills and knowledge to us. He was a Veterinarian, served as our President, exhibited at shows, bred many litters and judged our Specialty at Montgomery on more than one occasion. For those of you who didn't know him, it should be clear that he was a consummate fancier.

Joe was willing and happy to share his knowledge and experience with fellow members and his contributions and personal sacrifices on our behalf will be long remembered and valued. On behalf of the Irish Terrier Club of America, I offer our condolences to Jean and the entire family.

Secretary's Report

No action has been taken by the ITCA Board since the last newsletter.

The proposed amendment to the ITCA Constitution and By-Laws which splits the current club office of Secretary into the offices of Corresponding Secretary and Recording Secretary passed by a vote of 203 in favor and one against.

The Sweepstakes and Show applications for the October 10, 1993 ITCA Specialty have been approved by the AKC.

It's time to send me nominations for the 1994 Montgomery Sweepstakes judge. Please ask your nominee before submitting his or her name for nomination.

By now, everyone should have received an updated 1993 ITCA membership roster. Please check your personal listing for accuracy. If there are any corrections needed, please send them to me and they will be published in the next newsletter.

Kate

Kate is singularly unavailable for comment this month as she prepares the first of what will be two assaults against Nature's animal elements. Yes, folks, it's Kitty Hawk time again.

Kate is moving away from the house with the two foxes co-habiting and streaking across the roadway just in front of us on our early morning strolls to test leash tensile strength and durability.

Kate's new Spring quarters is known as Beach Time because she really doesn't like the beach and, at her age, probably never will. This is her master's fault for throwing her in a shallow canal in Chincoteague. Kate might as well have been a pony.

According to naturalists, Chincoteague, VA, the island, probably has the biggest and largest number of fleas and ticks per square mile since Staten Island, New York, clearly abdicated to the little buggers by letting the Mafia come in to dump land fill and, when that land ran out, they dumped it out to sea in barges.

Which is why Kitty Hawk, NC, has barge waste on its beaches and illegal flea tick migrants from Staten Island and Chincoteague. (Is that perfectly clear, professor?)

In case you haven't figured this out by now, this is a round-about way to "bug" you about fleas and ticks and your Irish. There are no easy solutions, and none seems to come in a bottle. There's the vet and his chemical bath before you go and when you return.

Then there's the real estate people who make it mandatory for them to come in and spray with God only knows what, but at a fee half way to heaven if you want your Irish to stay in their client's precious little digs.

Last year the second place we stayed wasn't sprayed. What an itch that week was. We wound up at the local vet when Kate threatened to move out and report us to Millie. And the U. S. Environmental Protection Agency!

Kate is about half way through her winter-to-summer haircut as this is being written. Hence, no comment today. One flying leap off the top of our washing machine (grooming table) and she goes to Gilbert Garcia, leading Washington hairstylist known for his short temperament with female clients. Some of Dr. Benson's six-foot heavyweight assistants also are available for special pre-beach ministrations.

In the "Dog Owner's Veterinary Guide," published in 1965 and written by George and Drusilla Kidd, these late lovers of the Irish stated: "The dog that is groomed regularly and provided with clean sleeping quarters should not be troubled by fleas, ticks, or lice. If the dog should become infested with any of these parasites he should be treated with a medicated dip bath or the new oral medications that are presently available."

One medicated bath coming up, Dr. Benson. The Kitty Hawk Irish Special if you've got one. That's the red rinse one for old dogs like Kate with virtually no immune system.

THE IRISH TERRIER CLUB OF SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA

We would like to invite all members and other Irish Terrier fanciers to our Specialty on June 26, 1993. It will be held at Brookside Park (next to the Rose Bowl) with the Great Western Terrier Specialties. We will be making our headquarters at the Burbank Airport Hilton again, and rooms can be obtained, at $65.00, single or double, by calling (818) 843-6000. Be sure to mention that you are with the Great Western dog show group to get those rates.

Judges will be: Sweepstakes - Ed Dalton
Classes - Bruce Schwartz

Friday and Saturday nights there will be a hospitality room with "munchies" and drinks at "Muldoon's Place." (Just ask for Jim Cassity's suite.)

Saturday morning we will serve donuts, coffee and orange juice. A Pot-Luck luncheon will be served after Best of Breed. Dinner Saturday evening, at the hotel, will be either chicken or beef steak. To make reservations send a check for $30.00 to:

Linda MacDonald, 216 Monroe Place, Monrovia, CA 91610

This will cover all costs for your food that the club is offering for the two days.

The Beverly Hills Kennel Club show follows on Sunday at the Los Angeles Sports Arena, and Irish will have a supported entry. The judge will be Mrs. M. K. Kipp.

PLEASE COME AND JOIN THE FESTIVITIES!

Ch. Rockledge's Mick Michael

Ch. Rockledge's Mick Michael was put down April 26, 1993, two days past his 14th birthday.

Michael's show record was outstanding — 116 Best of Breeds out of 136 times shown, thirteen Best in Shows, forty-eight Group 1sts, thirty-one 2nds, nine 3rds, and five 4ths. He also won 10 Irish Terrier Specialties including one from the Open Class and one from the Veteran Class.

Michael's record as a sire was phenomenal. His 35 champion offspring is a breed record that should stand for many years to come. He is present in the pedigree of many of today's top Irish Terriers. He will be missed by the Honey's as well as his legion of admirers.

Lacey

Two years ago this past April I got my second dog, a darling, squirmy little Irish we named Snowtaire's Irish Lace, Lacey for short. She has had a special place in our hearts from the moment we brought her home. That is not to say that everything has been peaches and cream since her arrival! Lacey has always had a mind of her own and feels that it would be better if she was in charge rather than me. But I too am stubborn and we've worked through a lot the two of us! She is nothing like her "brother" Bourbon, a four year old black Miniature Schnauzer. Bourbon knew from the moment she arrived that Lacey would rule the roost as she has indeed. He is happy with this arrangement and they get along well. It's just sometimes hard for him to keep up with her!

Lacey started obedience lessons when she was 10 weeks old. I'll always remember the call I got from Dale Gordon, our instructor, asking if I'd consider putting her in class even though she was a bit young yet. Consider, the soon the better!! I was at my wits end trying to figure out how best to approach this little terror who had come to stay! I was determined to do wonderful things with this little devil.

Soon after obedience started, Lacey started going to agility classes with Bourbon and me, watching at first, but soon joining in on some things as she became older. Agility was a nice release for her and she loved it. It helped to build her confidence in herself (just what I needed!). Last month she entered her first trial. She did very well considering. No ribbons or placements yet, but she listened well, called back when necessary and did her job well. I was very proud of her as she was of herself! This year should be basically a learning experience, but by next year I fully expect that she will have her share of ribbons to bring home as well.

Lacey has also participated in flyball. She was entered on her first team last fall in Canada and I was never more mortified in my life. We had practiced well, and she seemed to be ready so we entered with a lot of encouragement from our teammates. She was an utter fool! She did make it down the four hurdles, looked at the box in our lane loaded with her ball, looked across and decided that the ball the dog in the other lane was going after was much more interesting to her and crossed over and took it away from him! That was only the beginning of several runs where Lacey raced back and forth between the two lanes as if to say, "catch me if you can!" Imagine how I felt when someone came up to me and said she was the funniest thing they had ever seen at a tournament!

Oh well, back to the drawing board. Last weekend we entered another tournament and Lacey earned her FD (Flyball Dog) title. She is the 2nd Irish Terrier to receive a flyball title in North America! She ran in her lane with determination like you wouldn't believe. Once or twice I caught a look in her eye that seemed to say, "I wonder if I could get away with going after that dog in the other lane?" But persistence paid off, she stuck to her business, did her job well and made all of us very proud of her. Lacey has also won a spot on a local flyball exhibition team that Pedigree has put together here in Washington state. As such, she participated in two University of Washington Husky games at halftime this past season. The crowd loved her and the cheering from a crowd of 6,000 to 8,00 "fans" didn't bother her in the least.

I can't imagine what my life would be like without my wonderful little Irish. She keeps us hopping, but that determined sparkle in her eye makes it all worthwhile. We'll try to keep you all posted on her accomplishments and encourage you to try some of these activities with your dogs. You'll be surprised at their response.
